DAD JADE RAPLEY

I just saw my dad for the first time in a long time and he told me I looked well, and by that, I knew he meant that I gained weight. that I didn't look too thin anymore, that I didn't look like I was going to die.

He told me that my hair looks healthy and long,

And by that, I knew he meant that he was glad that I was nourishing my body enough to let myself grow, that things weren't shrinking and dying and that I didn't walk like I was a garden in the middle of June;

with the weight of the world hidden in snow piled high upon my chest.

I saw my dad for the first time in a long time and he told me that I looked well and by that, I knew he meant that I gained weight, and when I saw it light him up, I knew that there were more important things in life than numbers on a scale.
